

Bat Conservation Activities

Be a friend to bats all year long. Choose one or more activities to do at your home, neighborhood or school. For complete activity descriptions, visit batconservation.org/learn/learn-digital-badges/

ACTIVITY IDEAS

WILDLIFE GARDENING ACTIVITIES

Your backyard is the best place to get started. Use this space to give bats, and other wildlife, a healthy place to call home:

- Compost fruits and veggies
- Plant a tree
- Make a seed bomb
- Build a rain barrel
- Plant a wildlife garden
- Put up a bat house

BAT ARTIST ACTIVITIES

Get your creative side going with these bat-inspired art projects:

- Choose and draw your favorite bat
- Make a bat superhero comic
- Create an origami bat
- Design a bat flipbook

BAT SCIENTIST ACTIVITIES

Studying bats can help you understand why they are important to humans and the environment. Learn about bats that live near you and around the world:

- Give a report to your class at school
- Observe bats on the bat cam at www.batconservation.org
- Compare the bodies of bats and humans
- Find bats in your neighborhood
- Make a guide to local bats

BAT ADVOCATE ACTIVITIES

Bats need you now more than ever. Show how important bats are to you with one of these activities:

- Sponsor a bat that lives at the Organization for Bat Conservation's Bat Zone
- Write a news story for your local paper
- Write a thank you letter to a park ranger
- Write a letter to your Congressional representative to show your support for bat conservation

ADDITIONAL RESOURCES

Looking for more? Check out Project EduBat at www.batslive.pwnet.org/edubat for classroom activities and downloadable materials.

For more information about bats, visit www.batconservation.org and www.fs.fed.us/global

ORGANIZATION FOR
BAT CONSERVATION
#SAVETHEBATS